Hi Stakeholder Group members.

My name is Tim Nakada and I'm a mostly non-consumptive SCUBA diver. (I occasionally go ab-diving, and try to take scallops and lobster.) Most of my diving experience is in the Monterey area, and so I've seen the great benefit of a marine reserve with easy diver access, at Point Lobos. I would love to be able to dive in an equivalent reserve in the North Coast region. Of course, this would not just benefit divers, but fishermen and ab-divers in adjacent areas.

Thanks.
